Project Name	Heston Blumenthal Restaurant at the Mandarin Oriental Hyde Park
Date Completed	2010
Product	Ambient Acoustic System

Overlooking iconic Hyde Park and Knightsbridge is the Mandarin Oriental Hotel Hyde Park. A luxurious 5-star hideaway, close to London's major attractions. Located inside this glorious hotel is the Heston Blumenthal restaurant, one of the world's most celebrated restaurants. The restaurant completed in December 2010, opened for customers in February 2011.

To ensure guests dining pleasure, noise levels have been significantly dampened by using the Terraco Ambient Acoustic Plastering System applied by Pacy & Wheatley. Terraco Ambient Acoustic plaster was installed in the main and private dining rooms as well as in the Chef's table areas to reduce the ambient noise which often accompanies minimal furnishing. The architect's, Denton Corker Marshall, wanted a finish which would be pleasing to the eye and at the same time create a comfortable atmosphere to the restaurant's sophisticated guests, and Terraco Ambient Acoustic provided the solution.
